FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1910.

TEN PAGES

Congressman Kennedy will accept the challenge of Candidate Whitacre to discuss the issues of the campaign at a time and place yet to be determined.

There is a quiet that is almost painful in this fall's campaign. But possibly county candidates are pursuing gum-shoe methods at present and will burn red fire later.

The Giddings club will hold its annual banquet in Warren next Wednesday night when all the republican politicians of Trumbull and Mahoning counties are expected to gather around the festive board and sound the praises of the G. O. P. Congressman Nick Longworth of Cincinnati is to be the principal speaker but local talent will also shine.

There is objection from farmers in different parts of the county to the proposed experiment farm in this county. The question is to be voted on at the coming November election. An initial expenditure of $25,000 is contemplated to purchase a farm and equip it. To do this will require a bond issue, and it is argued that taxes in this county, already sky-high because of the erection of a new court house and jail and bridges, should not be made more burdensome at this time.

SALEM

Eli French, a native of Damascus, who resided in this city the past ten years, died last week of Bright's disease, aged 55. His wife and two children survive him. He was a member of the Friends' church.

Salem's home-coming celebration last Friday and Saturday was a great success.

Salem high defeated Ravenna high at football Saturday, the score being 6 to 5.

The dead body of Wm. Burns of this city was found beside the Ft. Wayne track in Alliance last Friday. It is not known how he met death. He was 30 years old.

Robt. Lucas, working at the new Methodist church last Friday, was struck on the head by a plank that fell from the floor above him, painfully injuring him.

Edward Iseman and Miss Alice Riley were married last week, Rev. M. J. Grable performing the ceremony.

Looks now as though Congressman Kennedy would receive the normal republican vote in Columbiana county. Harry Crawford of this city, 21 years old, died Monday in the Alliance hospital of typhoid fever with which he was stricken a month ago.

LOCUST GROVE

YOUNGSTOWN

This so far has been quite a lively week for Youngstown even though what should be perhaps almost a concern is permitted to almost slumber. Politics is almost like a rip up in the carpet. Why, it's a fact, honest fact there are few or no candidates with enough get-up and grit or ambition in them to ask a prospective voter up to have a drink. So far it's the driest, most apathetic and most lifeless campaign involving so many men running for positions of importance. There is Congressman James Kennedy for instance. About the only thing he has done so far to excite unusual attention has been to invade old democratic and festive Springfield. That is held by some of the republican zealots to be like a saint paying a fraternal visit to his satanic majesty. In both the old parties and in the socialistic and prohibition there's a big bunch of fine and fluent speakers, among them Ed. Ward Peebles, Thomas Williams, J. J. Whitacre, Elias Jenkins, et al, but so far they have seldom opened their mouths in stump speech in the campaign. And it seems strange, too, when one considers that both sides are confident. There are Peebles and J. J. Whitacre and Peter Deliel among the democrats who declare themselves very confident, but so far they have visibly done little or nothing but shake hands and maybe kiss a few babies. There are many republicans here who say they believe Harmon will beat Harding and some of them say they think Peebles stands a mighty good chance. The present apathy augurs well, for it means a short, sharp and active combat.

There is over here an importative who is represented to be very enterprising and is said to have formed and be operating a sort of Cyprian trust—to control perhaps 90 per cent. of the tainted trade. When an outsider steps in and in a short time so rounds up that sort of commerce it seems to show a gentleman of rare genius. Among the gentlemen still here are several who yell "come 11! Come 71" and "Little Phoebe!" These bone-shaking boys are hard to round up, for it is so dead easy to dig up or carry around a crap shooting outfit. But after all is said and done, old Youngstown is well patrolled by the police and is pretty free from crime. A tip-top secretary he is drafted into service. There is no one else more competent to fill the bill.

Bacon in this city this week was marked 30 cents a pound and poor, flabby stuff would hate to offer a decent dog was 25. Pork chops ran along about 15, but you can get steak for 14 and 15 and fine boiling meat for 8 and 10. Oysters are 30 a quart and at last accounts were not any too good for the money. But cookies and doughnuts! You may get fine ones for 5 and 6 a dozen and fresh eggs for 26. So one may live cheaply if he will.

Bell telephone rates in this city have been hiked 25 per cent.

Tom Kane, 23, fell at the Carnegie plant Friday and fractured his skull, death resulting.

Robert H. Wallace died last Thursday at his home on Joseph street, aged 52 years. Deceased was a carpenter by trade but for 20 years had been engaged in concrete contract work. He was married to Miss Ella DeCamp of Cornersburg about 25 years ago. His wife and one son survive him. Deceased was a member of the Presbyterian church. Funeral services, Sunday afternoon, were conducted by Rev. R. E. Pugh at the home of America, of which he was a member, attended in a body. Burial was in the Cornersburg cemetery.

The Youngstown Fancier's club will hold its annual poultry show Dec. 12-17.

Allie Hill, colored, for harboring unlawfully Helen Shore, aged 14, and May Kelly, 15, was sentenced to the penitentiary for 18 months. The girls, who are now inmates of the House of the Good Shepherd in Cleveland, were here and testified against the woman, telling stories that were heart-rending.

At the annual reunion of the 6th C. V. C. in Warren last week, D. B. Stambaugh and Dennis McKenna, both of this city, were respectively elected president and vice president of the organization. It was decided to hold the reunion next year in this city, Sept. 19-23.

Raven football team defeated Warren high last Saturday by a score of 17 to 0. The visiting team was lighter than the Raven team.

The men employed at the Scuthers plant of the Carnegie Steel Co. have been discharged, the office force expected. If the plant is moved to Gary, Ind., as is expected, the Youngstown Sheet & Tube will occupy the plant.

The Youngstown Automobile club will make a run to Cleveland next Friday, returning Saturday.

The plans of local Catholics to establish a new hospital in this city have been formally endorsed by Bishop John P. Farrelly. It may be now said that the hospital will be one of the best in the state.

Mrs. Lavina Winsworth died Sunday, aged 80 years. She was born in Trumbull county but had resided in this city 40 years. She leaves two sons and one daughter.

Mrs. Grace Wells Siegfried, recently divorced at Reno, Nev., from W. H. Siegfried, who is in the Massillon state hospital, was married in Chicago last Saturday to E. B. Day of St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Dustman of Patmos called on Canfield acquaintances Wednesday afternoon.

Seventeen divorce cases were assigned this week for hearing by Judge Rogers.

W. R. McDowell, P. & L. E. engineer, was leaving out of his cab window in the Hazelton yard Sunday morning when his head struck a box car causing fatal injuries.

Triplets born last week to Frank Bolanga and wife are all dead. There are few of the old-time saloonmen in the business, about the last of them being Herman Brant, miller, sr., who kept one of the fairest and squarrest places in the world. However, James Loftus, one of the old guard, is still with us; but he is perhaps the last of the Mohicans.

Last Monday night city council discussed municipal lighting, which certain to come some of these fine days.

Some folks over here are wondering about the price of broom corn and if it is any or much higher than heretofore. That is, if the farmer gets more for it as it comes from the field, the inquiry being excited by the fact that a first-class broom now costs 50 cents—a plumb half dollar. You may get a broom for 35c, but if a man'd take one home to his wife she should break it on his peevish pate. And this high price of brooms is one of the reasons why so very many are investing in carpet sweepers, which are far more convenient, cleaner and more sanitary than the old-fashioned article that was often made of splints when grandma was a girl.

Jacob Kalver isn't sayin' much politically, but he is supposed to be doin' a heap of heavy thinkin'. Nothing has been heard about ex-Marshall Hugh Cowley breaking his records this fall. For years he has been going with some boon companions up to Rome river, where they cut a fish waste that was little less than a mile wide.

One of the leading and all-important questions is, Who is collecting from the slot machines? It is reported there has been a change in the delicate and exacting work, but of course the result of the shakeup has not appeared in the Telegram, the Vindicator or the Journal.

There has been another murder here in East Federal street, where last Monday evening an Italian stabbed another so badly that he died soon after being deposited in the City hospital. When anything or one goes lethally in the east end of town the rest of the city pays no more than the slightest attention. It does not arouse far more attention. The gentleman who did the deadly cutting is behind the bars. He is Antonio Cotelech of New Brighton, Pa. and his victim was Charles Perlinke, aged 24, of Oak street this city and the scene of the slaying Savino Tisone's saloon. If he is ever found guilty it'll be for nothing more serious than manslaughter, which these days is as common as skunk cabbage.

Friday evening Hon. David Rockwell of Ravenna will address the members of the Democratic organization of Mahoning county in headquarters in the Mahoney building on the corner of North Market and East Commerce. It is said he has a message of importance to deliver and that in the meeting arrangements for several democratic meetings soon to follow will be made. That looks something like campaign business. And it is surely high time when it is no more than a month till the election. Judge Rockwell is held to be a speaker of force and felicity.

Bessie Peers is 22 and is a bad girl. She has been an inmate of the Reformatory of Mary Smith on East Boardman street. Bessie has or had an Italian Romeo named Joe Best. He and she nuptured Monday evening. It is said he demanded money and she refused it, and then he swore he'd leave her. When he went away she went to her room and drank enough carbolic acid to kill a horse, but through the prompt and wise action of landlady Smith and the hospital treatment Bessie'll pull through. Best is locked up on suspicion, which like charity, covers a multitude of sins.

Circuit court convenes in this city next Monday when Judges Laupis, Fillius and Metcalf will pass on 55 cases on the docket.

Burglars cracked the safe in the office of the Steel Trust Co. Tuesday night and secured $600 in money.

Carmine DeGennaro, charged with the murder of Saar Joseph, last August, will be placed on trial for his life next Monday.

W. W. Smith, a bridge builder, was arrested in Cleveland last week and brought back to this city to answer to the charge of passing a bad check for $6.50 on Davis Bros.

Several of the iron mills in the city are shut down on account of a shortage of orders and others are running only 70 per cent. capacity.

The report of the committee appointed to examine the county treasury shows that on Oct. 1 there was a balance of $339,064.82, and overdrafts of $88,351.42, leaving a net balance on hand of $441,713.40. Added to this are outstanding warrants amounting to $8,329.58, which makes the balance in the treasury $540,043.26.

All kinds of political music is expected to fill the air shortly in this county. And, it is high time. Who ever heard of such quiet as now prevails in this county so near election day?

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

—Buckwheat crop is light this year.

—Lewis Trucks, aged 71 years, died in Columbiana Monday.

—Cleveland centennial celebration this week.

—The home of Wm. Sheets, three miles north of Alliance, is quarantined on account of smallpox.

—John Kayle, an aged Leetonia man, was set upon by footpads Monday night and robbed of $2 and some jewelry.

—Chas. Hickman, formerly of East Palestine, convicted wife murderer, who escaped from the Beaver, Pa., jail last Sunday morning, was captured Tuesday near Monongahela, Pa., and is again in jail.

—A representative of the state board of agriculture was in Youngstown and it was decided to recommend that farmers' institutes be held in Canfield, North Jackson and Poland Center. This action would cut out Berlin Center and North Lima, which for quite a number of years have had speakers furnished by the state board.

—On account of high winds Wednesday afternoon Eugene Ely, who was sent to Youngstown by Glenn Curtiss to make aeroplane flights at Willis park, was unable to give such a demonstration as was hoped for, consequently thousands of people were disappointed. Ely made three attempts but was able to cover only a short distance by a male companion. A free exhibition was given by Mr. Ely and again thousands were out to witness it.

—A Greenford correspondent writes: Miss Mabel Clay, aged 20, daughter of Wilford Clay of Greenford, is missing from her home here. She left about 7 o'clock Monday evening and no trace of her has since been seen. Tracks through the field gave the girl's parents a clue as to the direction in which she started. The tracks of a man's shoes were found near the girl's tracks in the field and suspicion of having aided the girl in running away, it seems, rests upon a local man. Miss Clay is supposed to have left home on account of parental objection to a betrothal paid for by a male companion much older than herself. This man is thought to have aided her in her flight, but did not accompany her far, as he is not missing from home. Mr. Clay was in East Liverpool Wednesday looking for his daughter but found no trace of her.

THE MORNING CALL.

[Chicago News.]
Ma comes and calls at early dawn.
An' I say: "Yessum."
She calls again and I just yawn.
An' answer: "Yessum."
I love to be just half awake.
An' dream of fishin' in the lake
And smell the buckwheat battercake.
An' answer: "Yessum."
Again she comes and gives her call.
An' I say: "Yessum."
I don't git up ner stir at all:
I just say: "Yessum."
And then she hollers, "Willum, you
Have got your mornin' chores to do,
You'll have to hustle to git through."
An' I say: "Yessum."

Each mornin' it is that there way:
I just say: "Yessum."
She calls an' calls an' I just say:
"I'm comin', yessum!"
Then dad comes an' he hollers, "Bill!"
An' then I stop my lyin' still.
An' go to dressin' with a will,
An' holler: "Comin'!"
